

The Relyens group signs the Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI)

Signatory of:

Relyens, a leading European mutual insurance and risk management group serving healthcare professionals and local authorities, has signed the Principles for Responsible Investment (PRI), joining a network of more than 3,000 investors and asset management signatories across the world.

A global initiative launched in 2006 by investors in partnership with the UNEP Finance Initiative and the UN Global Compact, the Principles for Responsible Investment works to support its international network of signatories in the implementation of the six Principles for Responsible Investment. With the objective of encouraging investors and asset managers to fulfil their fiduciary duties, it aims to determine the links between investments and environmental, social and governance (ESG) issues, and to support signatories in incorporating these issues into their investment and ownership decisions.

By signing the PRI, Relyens is committing to six key Principles, requiring it to:

- Incorporate ESG issues into investment analysis and decision-making processes;
- Be an active investor and incorporate ESG issues into its ownership policies and practices;
- Seek appropriate disclosure on ESG issues by the entities in which its invests;
- Promote acceptance and implementation of the principles within the investment industry;
- Work together to enhance effectiveness in implementing the principles;
- Report individually on activities and progress towards implementing the principles.

“By signing the PRI, the Relyens group is reaffirming its full commitment to responsible finance and making further progress towards incorporating ESG issues into our investment strategy and decisions. We are delighted to contribute to this initiative and to join an international network of investors to work on these issues. It is also an ethical commitment for the Group and reflects our ongoing support for the public interest missions delivered by our member customers in the healthcare and local authority spheres.”

Romain Durand, Chief Investment Officer, Relyens group

“It is gratifying to witness the growth of sustainable investing in the insurance sector, as the industry increasingly recognises the importance of incorporating ESG factors into investment and ownership decisions. Against this backdrop, we are very pleased to welcome leading European mutual insurance and risk management group Relyens to the PRI. In becoming a signatory, Relyens is recognising the importance of ESG to its more than 30,000 customers and members, and nearly 900,000 people covered in France, Spain, Italy and Germany. We look forward to working with the team.” Fiona Reynolds, PRI CEO
